

Coriats Family Office Services

CORIATS

Foreword

We understand that considerable wealth in the modern world brings global opportunity, coupled with the added complications of international exposure. Wealthy families often have interests across multiple countries, each with associated legal and/or tax complications with a sustained increase in people setting up family offices to allow for greater visibility and control.

Traditionally, the trust business has been about protecting generational wealth from asset claims, multiple levels of taxation and other risk. Today's rapidly changing world demands more value add from trustees.

Coriats understands that it is as much about identifying and embracing new opportunities for ethical and sustainable growth as it is about the preservation of historic wealth. We welcome the opportunity to work alongside the clients we serve and to look after their interests. We provide practical, responsive and holistic family office and trustee services.

Over multiple decades, Coriats has become known for the quality of business undertaken by the firm. The families and businesses we look after are selective, and so are we. Connecting closely with the family, and/or the introducing adviser, we seek to thoroughly understand and develop the key objectives of the structures we set up and manage. This often enables us, drawing on decades of professional expertise, to suggest innovative solutions that enhance results. We work closely with existing advisers and service providers, or we can introduce reliable resources from our own worldwide network of partners, leveraging their expertise.

About Coriats

Coriats was founded in 1978, and from inception we have been committed to providing long term strategic counsel to wealthy international families and businesses as their trusted advisors. We approach every relationship on a long term basis, and the majority of our clients have worked with us for multiple decades.

We offer trustee, corporate management and family office services to the highest standards; combined with flexibility, reliability and integrity. Over the years, Coriats has expanded this service to include full family office, financial and investment administration services.

We have a particular expertise in designing investment strategies to achieve specific investment outcomes at clearly agreed levels of risk, and ensuring a reporting, supervisory and governance regime to enable the family investment culture and objectives to be achieved, whilst including multiple generations in the process.

We also have significant experience in acting as trustees/protectors in contentious and/or insolvent trust situations, where our litigation literacy and strategic dispute experience can be deployed in multiple jurisdictions (we can and do take on trustee and protector roles in most common law jurisdictions).

Our Philosophy

We believe that wealthy families have a unique opportunity to improve quality of life for themselves and for others, and to change their world in positive ways. Our mission is to serve, guide and support them in achieving that growth across whatever spectrum they choose.

Family Office Services - Our Approach

Coriats always offers a tailored service. We will spend time with your family, understanding the many complexities and dynamics you face today as well as those you may face in the future.

Intergenerational wealth transfer is a challenge faced by most families. Decisions on how wealth should be structured and managed are key. These will include tax considerations and investment return expectations as well as family decisions about how the wealth is to be used.

Ensuring your family agrees on a long term strategy and its own governance around issues including pre-nuptial agreements, wills, powers of attorney and asset holding structures is critical. It's our long term commitment to be on hand to assist you as and when such conversations arise.

We are always willing to discuss fee levels for clients with whom we have a long term relationship.
